Q. What time was Mrs. Mills in your store on the night she was killed?

A. Never, no time.

Q. She phoned from here?

A. No. She not phone here.

Q. How many times did you see her that day?

A. No times. She never trade here; hardly ever here.

Q. Was Mr. Mills here that night?

A. Yes, he came and got a bottle of soda and went out.

Q. Did he ask about his wife?

A. No.

Q. He asked you about his wife telephoning from here, didn't he?

A. No. He just got the bottle of soda and went out.

Q. Was Dannie with him?

A. No. He was alone.

Q. What time was that?

A. I don't remember. I pay no attention to all the people in my store.
They come and go and I don't pay no attention to them. Its hard enough to tend to my own business. I don't bother with their business.
